Potential buyers cautioned

Area banks report sluggish start for county gold rush

By SANDY FOSSON

Record-Herald Staff Writer
The new-found gold rush has gotten off to less than a slow pace in Fayette County, according to local bank officials around the county.

Although Americans are now able to purchase gold in its metal form as of Dec. 31, 1974 for the first time in 41 years, many citizens have apparently taken a "devil-may-care" attitude about the gold market.

WHILE NATIONWIDE, banks and brokerage firms have reported sales are "extremely slow and almost non-existent," the sales in Fayette County are non-existent.

In fact, all banks contacted Friday reported at the present they will not even act as a dealer of gold.

Glenn R. Hemsworth, president of the First National Bank, of Washington C.H., said that although the bank will not sell, buy or exchange gold, it will be able, through its affiliation with BancOhio Corp., of Columbus, to accept orders for the gold bars.

Effective Monday, Jan. 6, the orders will be forwarded to the Ohio National Bank, of Columbus, which will act as a gold agent. A gold repurchase arrangement will also be limited to gold sales at the Ohio National Bank.

Hemsworth said the bank decided against selling the gold after considering it "a volatile and hazardous market."

He cautioned Fayette County residents of the dangers in buying, possessing and selling gold. "Buying gold incurs additional costs of sales tax, shipping and insurance charges, dealer fees and assayers fees, making it very unlikely that the purchaser would be able to sell his gold at the price he paid." He added, "The gold market is filled with a high degree of fraud and counterfeiting which could cause additional loss to the customer."

Neither the Huntington Bank, of Washington C.H., the Fayette County Bank, the First National Bank, of New Holland nor the First Federal Savings and Loan Association reported they would be dealing or taking orders for gold.

Harold Thompson, of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association, said his office "is not authorized to handle gold under the federal loan banking system."

The three agencies which regulate banks, Federal Reserve Board, Office of the Comptroller of the Currency and Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. (FDIC), ruled that savings and loan associations would not be allowed to deal in gold.

The three agencies also attempted to discourage commercial banks from dealing in gold. The Federal Reserve Board said gold cannot be used to satisfy its requirements for reserves which banks must keep to back up deposits.

For this reason alone, Jim Wilson, president of the Fayette County Bank, said the bank had received word from the state banking superintendent that he did not feel gold dealing was beneficial to the public. Wilson said although the bank would give interested persons information concerning the sale of gold and refer them to dealers, the bank had not received a single request. "Personally, I don't think it is a good deal for the United States or the public and I think you'll find very few banks that will handle gold," he said.

Richard Whiteside, president of the Huntington Bank, of Washington C.H., said the bank was still "carefully" looking into the prospect of dealing in gold but that it had not taken an active position at the present.

HE ADDED the bank does not look at gold as a good investment. "To compare the market value of gold today with the price a year ago, it appears that gold is at an inflated value," Whiteside said.

He said the bank had received no requests for gold but that the bank would aid any customers who wished to obtain the metal.

The First National Bank, of New Holland, will also not deal or take any orders for gold, president Joe Bryan said. "There is just too much involved and we know very little about the selling of gold."

New orders, construction slump

Jobless rate rises; 6 million unemployed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate soared to 7.1 per cent of the work force in December as Americans without jobs totaled more than six million for the first time since the Great Depression, the government reported today.

Not since 1940, when the nation was still shaking off the effects of the Great Depression, were more than six million unemployed. Some 8.1 million were jobless then, about 14.6 per cent of that era's smaller labor force.

The grim job report comes as President Ford returned from a 12-day skiing vacation in the Rockies to prepare for a meeting Saturday of his key economic policy advisers. With the jobless rate rising and other signs that the recession is deepening, the administration reportedly is considering tax cuts to help stimulate the economy.

Two other indications of the economic sag came Thursday when the Commerce Department reported that new orders for factories declined 2 per cent in November and new construction slumped 2.7 per cent that month.

The December unemployment figures, which reflect massive layoffs in automobile-related industries as well as those resulting from the nationwide coal strike, were based on data gathered before the middle of the month. Layoffs have continued to spread since then and will push the jobless rate for January still higher.

This trend was indicated Thursday in the Labor Department's weekly report on unemployment insurance claims. The report said 677,800 persons applied for jobless benefits during the week ended Dec. 21, an increase of 40,100 over the previous week.

Administration economists predict unemployment will continue rising until it reaches about 7.5 per cent by midyear, but some private economists forecast a rate of 8 per cent by summer, a level that has not been approached in the last 25 years.

In other economic developments:

—AFL-CIO President George Meany is convening a rare meeting of the presidents of all 110 unions in the labor federation to develop a program "designed to stabilize the economy and put American back to work."

—The nation's largest retailers reported December sales gains were better than anticipated but not strong enough to erase the cloud still hanging over Christmas profits.

—The labor contract between the 5,300-member Sheet Metal Workers Union and U.S. railroads expired, raising the possibility of a strike.

—The stock market started the New Year with a 15.80 jump in the Dow Jones industrial average. The London stock market slumped to a 20-year low.

—Gold prices slumped on both the U.S. and European markets for the second consecutive day. Brokers say gold prices soared recently in anticipation of American buying that became legal earlier this week. But the American gold rush has thus far not materialized.

—President Ford's economic advisers have reached nearly unanimous agreement on the need for a tax cut, the New York Times said today. The newspaper said administration officials report that the advisers are still debating the size of the tax cut and that Ford has yet to reach a decision on the proposal. One high official said there is a $10 billion to $20 billion difference on the size of the cut, the newspaper said.

—The Social Security contribution base should be raised from $14,100 to $24,000 and the tax from 5.85 per cent to 5.95 per cent from both employees and employers, a study group says.

A spokesman for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare said Thursday the recommendation was made by the subcommittee on finance of the Advisory Council on Social Security, a panel of prominent private citizens chosen by the HEW secretary to study the financial condition of the Social Security system. The full council has not finished formulating its final recommendations, the spokesman said.

The panel is also considering a recommendation that the mandatory retirement age be raised from 65 to 68 in the year 2005, the spokesman said. These recommendations were made because of the declining birth rate, he said.

One candidate in baby derby

For the second year in a row, a baby boy has apparently won the honor as being the Washington C.H. area's first new citizen of 1975.

Bradley David Shaeffer made his debut at 11:32 a.m. Thursday in Fayette Memorial Hospital with the assistance of Dr. K.K. Wong. The seven pound, two ounce boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Shaeffer, of 1003 Briar Ave.

Bradley now becomes eligible for a bundle of practical tokens of welcome supplied by 12 Fayette County merchants.

All babies born to Fayette County residents after the clock struck midnight Dec. 31, 1974, regardless of where they came into the world, are eligible.

The deadline for reporting the birth is midnight Friday, Jan. 10. The birth must be recorded within 10 days at the Fayette County Health Department and a copy of the birth certificate must be made available to the Record-Herald.

Demos seek to justify remap steamroller

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Majority Democrats in Ohio's new legislature have defended their plan to move at top speed next week to reshape congressional districts before GOP Gov.—elect James A. Rhodes takes office Jan. 13.

House Speaker Pro Tem Vernal G. Riffe Jr., D—89 New Boston, said Thursday it will be "the same thing" Republicans did in 1964 after losing control of the Senate. "Rhodes (then governor) called a special session to do it," he said.

Additionally, the new House speaker said the action is "justified" on the basis of figures showing Democratic congressional candidates outpolled Republicans statewide in the Nov. 5 election.

Yet, he said, the GOP wound up with a 15-8 advantage in the state's congressional delegation. "There's something wrong with that," he said.

Riffe's comments came after a caucus of House Democrats to consider the redistricting bill Senate Democrats gave tentative approval to almost a week ago.

Democrats, who gained control of both houses of the legislature Nov. 5 for the first time in 16 years, came up with a bill which has as its main thrust the combining of six Republican incumbents into only three districts.

The plan creates one district north of Columbus, another northeast of Dayton, and a third in Montgomery County where there would be no incumbents. It also makes a sort of doughnut out of the two existing districts in Cincinnati where Democrats believe they can claim at least one of the two seats now held by Republicans.

Otherwise, the measure reshuffles most of the other districts to beef up Democratic strength where possible. It includes various trade offs in northeast Ohio where Summit County would comprise parts of two districts instead of the present four.

Combined into the same districts by the measure would be:

Rep. Samuel Devine, R—12 Columbus, and Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R—15 Columbus.

Rep. Charles W. Whalen, R—3 Dayton, and Rep.—elect Thomas N. Kindness, R—8 Hamilton.

Rep. Tennyson Guyer, R—4 Findlay, and Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R—7 Urbana.

Despite the consolidations, however, the incumbents would not be precluded in 1976 from running for re-election in districts outside their place of residence.

The redistricting proposal is one of several Democrats hope to speed toward enactment next week so that Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan can sign them before surrendering the governor's office to Rhodes. They will lack the votes to override the Republican vetoes.

Among the others are measures to transfer collection of the state income tax from the Department of Taxation to the Democrat-held state treasurer's office—saving about 300 Democratic administration jobs—and similarly, moving the Consumer Protection Division in the Department of Commerce into the attorney general's office retained Nov. 5 by Democrat William J. Brown.

Riffe said he also expects to see enactment of a bill permitting door-to-door voter registration—long opposed by Republicans—and another proposal qualifying workers idled by strikes elsewhere for unemployment compensation benefits.

The speaker-elect and other leaders also had planned to press for a state extension of the duration of unemployment compensation from 26 to 39 weeks.

However, he noted that the recent federal enactment of legislation providing for the same extension made the move unnecessary on the part of Ohio.

About three dozen bills have been turned into the Senate and House clerk's office, awaiting formal introduction when the 1975 session starts Monday afternoon.

Among them are proposals to exempt earnings from savings accounts from the state income tax and to permit an employee who quit his job to draw jobless pay if he doesn't find another within 90 days.

Other measures slated for consideration would license those who perform cremations, and bring Ohio's obscenity laws in line with recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

Trucker wins $300,000

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—A grocery company's lift truck operator, Billy J. Nolen of Fairfield, won $300,000 today in the Ohio lottery's Buckeye 300 contest.

The father of three said he didn't know what he'd do with the money but that one of his sons already had an aim for it: purchase of a new sports car.

Vernon B. Drummond of Toledo won $60,000, and William S. Smith, West Salem, won $30,000.

Winning $15,000 each, the Buckeye 300 minimum prize, were Phyllis McLeod of Dayton, Phyllis Howland of Kettering, Samuel N. Frankina and Nealy M. Fish, both of Akron; and Charles C. Cook, Columbus.

Miss Fish, a nurse, said she was glad she hadn't won a bigger prize because her patients had been worried she'd quit work.

And Miss Howland, also a nurse, said she was excited enough by the minimum prize. She said she "woke up the whole house" at midnight when she got off work the evening she learned her ticket was a winner.

The winning numbers selected this week are 412 as the single and 389 751 as the double.

Winning digits

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—The winning weekly single number in the Ohio lottery is 412 and the double set is 389 751, the lottery commission said today.

Books closed on bad auto year

DETROIT (AP) — The nation's auto makers have closed the books on their most tumultuous year since World War II and opened 1975 with announcements of new production cutbacks and hints of more to come.

They also have confirmed independent industry estimates that new car output in 1974 sank to its lowest level for a nonstrike year in more than a decade.

Additional bad news is expected to come Monday when the industry reports its year-end sales totals. Deliveries since September have trailed year-before levels by 30 per cent.

Another sales drop in December, as anticipated, would trigger a new round of production cutbacks and layoffs.

U.S. passenger car production in 1974 stood at 7,340,373 units, a 24 per cent drop from a record 9,660,819 in 1973.

It was the lowest output since 1962, with the exception of 1970, when General Motors was hit by a 67-day national strike.

December production was 357,429 units, off 31 per cent from 517,955 in December 1973 when production and sales had just begun to tumble in response to effects of the energy crisis.

GM production in December 1974 was 215,423, down 17 per cent from 259,273 in December 1973. Production for 1974 stood at 3,585,509, a 32 per cent decline from the 1973 total of 5,252,734.

Ford's production for December 1974 was 108,024, off 18 per cent from December 1973's 131,984. Total production for last year was 2,205,245, down 12 per cent from the 1973 total of 2,495,853.

Chrysler built only 15,222 cars in December, an 85 per cent decline from the 103,217 built in December 1973. For the year, Chrysler's output was 1,198,241, off 23 per cent from 1973's 1,556,377.

American Motors reported output in December at 18,760, off 20 per cent from 1973's 23,481. Production declined one per cent for the year, 351,378 to 355,855 in 1973.

The most hard-pressed of the companies, Chrysler Corp., announced Thursday it was shutting three plants for at least a week, beginning Monday, and eliminating second shifts at two of those facilities when they reopen. One of the shift eliminations was announced previously.

The new shutdowns will force the layoff of 10,800 hourly workers, 2,600 of them for indefinite periods. About 50,000 of Chrysler's 117,000 hourly workers have now been given open-ended furloughs.

Company spokesmen hinted at further cutbacks, but declined to disclose production schedules beyond those for next week.

A Chrysler spokesman also confirmed Thursday for the first time that approximately 20,000 of the company's 39,000 white collar workers will be laid off sometime this month. He said he was among those handed pink slips.

Ford Motor Co. also announced new production cutbacks Thursday, saying reduced operations at two Michigan trim plants will result in the open-ended layoff of 1,100 workers, beginning Monday. That will boost Ford's indefinite furloughs to 29,000.

Ford has 85,000 of its 178,000 hourly workers slated for layoff this month, 56,000 for temporary periods.

GM is idling 132,000 of its 370,000 workers this month, 91,000 of them indefinitely. AMC is laying off 15,150 of its 23,000 workers for a week this month.

FBI raises fear nuclear weapons could be stolen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The FBI is raising fresh warnings about the possibility that nuclear weapons may fall into the hands of terrorists and about the continued activities of Communists in the United States.

In an annual report released this week, the FBI also reported that bank robberies reached a record high in the 1974 fiscal year. Convictions for white collar crimes were double the number for the previous fiscal year, the report continued.

The report covers the year which ended last June 30.

Discussing the internal security situation, the FBI noted that "publicity concerning the possibility of nuclear blackmail by terrorists has made available to the public detailed information relative to nuclear energy, radioactive material and the storage and transportation of nuclear weapons."

Consequently, there has been "an increase in the number of investigations involving possible violations of the Atomic Energy Act," the report said.

"This trend is expected to continue." Discussing Communists, the FBI report said that Soviet bloc travelers and diplomats in the United States "always have included elements of the foreign intelligence services."

By July 1974, the report added, "the official Soviet bloc presence had increased to 1,492," compared with 557 in 1960.

The People's Republic of China had 86 staff members at its United Nations mission in New York and 68 at its liaison office in Washington as of July 1, the report continued.

The staff increases and "the entry of thousands of East-West visitors and commercial representatives, required the FBI to assign additional personnel to maintain the constant vigilance necessary to detect and deal with foreign-inspired threats to the security of the United States," the report said.

The report said the Communist Party USA now has a membership of about 4,200 and is working to infiltrate trade unions. One party unit "is targeted against the American penal system in connection with the party's concentration on alleged political repression," it continued.

The report said bank robberies, burglaries and larcenies "soared to a record high of 3,485 during fiscal year 1974, in contrast to declines in fiscal years 1972 and 1973."

Referring to white collar crimes, the FBI said convictions for fraud, embezzlement, bribery, conflict of interest and related offenses totaled 3,091 in fiscal 1974, compared with 1,506 in the previous year.

Unidentified hero buried in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago hero was buried this week, but no one knows his name.

The sole markings on the simple, gray casket are "Male-White-Unknown."

On Aug. 23 the unidentified man, believed to be between 25 and 30, tried to defend three teen-agers who were being attacked by a man with a knife. He foiled the attack, but he was stabbed and died from head and chest wounds.

Police charged Richard Wilson, 35, with murdering the unknown man.

The unknown man's tattooed body remained at the morgue for four months as police sought his identity.

Ken Simon, a clothier on Chicago's South Side, read about the futile efforts of police and city officials to identify the stabbing victim. He also read that the man would be buried in a pauper's grave at the Cook County Cemetery in suburban Willow Springs unless relatives or friends were found.

"I thought, 'Oh God, here's a man who has done something, something good. Here he is and no one's claimed him,'" Simon recalled Thursday. "That's a hell of a reward to wind up in Potter's Field."

Simon contacted a minister, a rabbi and a priest who agreed to provide a burial for the man.

"He's the hero ... as far as the burial is concerned," said the Rev. Emery Percell. "He (Simon) contacted the morgue, the cemetery, the funeral parlor. He paid for the grave."

Simon paid $243 for the grave, while a funeral parlor prepared the body and donated the casket.

Simon, his wife and two friends were among the seven persons and three clergymen who attended the funeral Monday at Oak Lawn Cemetery.

"I felt glad that we were able to bury this man where we did," he said. "His family has to be found somehow. I don't know what to do myself."

Police said four tattoos on the man's body may hold a clue to his identity. His right forearm had the words "Born to Raise Hell" and a skull, wearing a top hat with a cigar in its teeth. Above his left ankle was a heart-shaped design and on his right shoulder was a pair of dice with the numerals "2" and "5" and the initials "KSH" were on his chest.

Justice Douglas to miss reconvening of high court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, recovering from a stroke that has impaired his ability to move, apparently will be unable to return to work when the court reconvenes Jan. 13.

Dr. Thomas Connolly, the 76-year-old justice's personal physician, said Thursday that Douglas has suffered "a loss of some ability to move" on his left side.

But Connolly said in an interview that doctors treating Douglas are encouraged by his progress.

"Right now things look good," Connolly said.

Connolly said it was impossible to tell how long recovery would take or whether Douglas would be able to resume the bench during the current term ending in June. However, it was considered unlikely that Douglas would be back at work when the court's Christmas recess ends.

Douglas was admitted to Walter Reed Army Medical Center on Wednesday after suffering a stroke New Year's Eve in Nassau, the Bahamas.

Connolly said the justice collapsed and experienced weakness in his left side while in his hotel room Tuesday evening shortly after arriving in Nassau from Washington.

"I think it was clear to Mrs. Douglas that he had had a stroke," he said. He said the justice did not lose consciousness.

Douglas and his wife, Cathy, were flown to Washington in an Air Force plane through arrangements made by President Ford.

A statement issued Thursday by the court's information officer, Barrett McGurn, said there was "no evidence of mental impairment" as a result of the stroke.

"Physicians are treating Justice Douglas with anticoagulants to lessen the possibility of blood clots moving from the heart," the statement said. "Justice Douglas' condition continues to be officially categorized as serious but his vital signs are stable and he is alert."

Connolly, asked about the nature of the stroke, responded: "There is a feeling that it may have been a blood clot from his heart that went to the brain. That is the presumption."

Douglas has worn an electronic pacemaker since 1968 to correct an abnormally slow heartbeat.

True love brings jail

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP)—Roderick A. Hinson, 26, of East Cleveland is back with his girlfriend Jacqueline Y. Nash after spending three days in jail in her stead.

She had pleaded guilty Monday to possession of an unregistered handgun. The charge stemmed from an incident during which she took the gun from Hinson's apartment, waved it at him following an argument and was reported to police by an apartment security guard.

"A jail is not a good place for a lady," Hinson said. "I'd rather be there myself than let her go through with it. I thought I could give her this as a Christmas present."

East Cleveland Municipal Judge James M. DeVinne said Hinson's serving the sentence was legal, although unusual.

"I couldn't believe it—he would give up his freedom for me," Miss Nash said.

Stock prices post gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market paused today to absorb the news of another big jump in the unemployment rate, then resumed its recent rising trend.

The noon Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 4.15 at 636.19, and gainers held a 3-2 edge on losers in moderate trading on the New Stock Exchange.

The Dow slipped more than 3 points at the outset after the government reported that the unemployment rate had reached 7.1 per cent last month. It appeared, however, that such a figure had been anticipated well enough to allow the market to recover quickly from the news.

Kissinger says oil war not ruled out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger has declined to rule out the possibility that the United States would use military force against Mideast oil producers "to prevent strangulation of the industrialized world."

"I have said repeatedly that I did not think it would come to that point. I'm confident the problem will be solved without the use of force," Kissinger told reporters Thursday night.

But, he added, "I'm not saying there is no circumstance where we would not use force."

After Kissinger returned from a vacation in Puerto Rico, reporters questioned him at Andrews Air Force Base near the capital about an interview he gave Business Week magazine.

In the magazine interview, Kissinger said of the possible use of force in the Mideast, "We should have learned from Vietnam that it is easier to get into a war than to get out of it. I am not saying that there's no circumstance where we would not use force. But it is one thing to use it in the case of a dispute over price, it's another where there's some actual strangulation of the industrialized world."

At Andrews, Kissinger said, "I warned against military action. For oil prices it is too dangerous."

Previously, Kissinger had refused to discuss the possibility of U.S. military action against the oil producers.

In the Business Week interview conducted Dec. 23, Kissinger said he doesn't anticipate another Arab oil embargo unless there is another Mideast war.

"I am not even sure of an oil embargo in the event of a war," he added.

And he said the danger of another Arab-Israeli war "is talked about much too loosely."

"Both sides lost grievously in the last war. Neither side really won. I think the readiness of either side to go to war is often exaggerated," Kissinger said.

Runoff election for Senate eyed

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Gov. Meldrim Thomson Jr. and Atty. Gen. Warren B. Rudman have asked the legislature to authorize a Feb. 18 special election, if needed, to fill the state's contested U.S. Senate seat.

The election would be held only if the U.S. Senate decides to void the results of the Nov. 5 election.

Brennan on way out?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford, in need of a secretary of labor who can work closely with union chiefs to help patch up the economy, has offered Labor Secretary Peter J. Brennan the ambassadorship to Ireland, administration sources say.

Brennan, who has been in disfavor with AFL-CIO President George Meany since shortly after his appointment by former President Richard M. Nixon in 1973, has not decided whether to accept the offer, the sources said Thursday.

Although Ford did not request Brennan's resignation directly, his offer of the ambassadorship clearly indicated he would like a new secretary of labor, the sources said.

Among persons rumored under consideration for the post are Director W. J. Usery Jr. of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service; John T. Dunlop, who recently returned to his teaching post at Harvard University after heading the now-defunct Cost of Living Council; Deputy Atty. Gen. Laurence Silberman, who earlier served as undersecretary of labor; and Brennan's current deputy, Richard Schubert.

Brennan, 56, is former leader of the New York City and State Building and Construction Trades Council.

If Brennan accepts the ambassadorship, he would replace John D. J. Moore, a New York lawyer appointed by Nixon in June 1969.

The gratitude in our hearts can never be fully expressed for the kindnesses, beautiful floral offerings and condolences during the time of the illness and death of our brother Earl Peters. "Thank You" to all of his friends who took the time to stop by the hospital to say a few words of cheer to him. To Rev. Wheat for his beautiful message and the Gerstner-Kinzer Funeral Home. A very special thanks to Ruby Anders for the many things she did for Earl. Also, a special thanks to Martha Kinzer, Fannie Rideout and Phil Tatum.

Winter adult vo-ed course registration is scheduled

WILMINGTON — Registration for winter term adult vocational education classes at the Laurel Oaks Career Development campus, Wilmington, will begin Jan. 2 and continue through Jan. 21.

Dr. Maurice C. Hartle, director of adult education, has announced that the Great Oaks Joint Vocational School District will offer nearly 50 courses for evening classes during the winter term (Jan. 27-April 10).

Classes will be offered in the areas of agriculture and horticulture; business and office education; distributive (retail marketing) education; health and home economics; trade and industrial education.

Hartle said special interest (personal enrichment) classes and academic courses for high school credit will also be conducted. Examples of some of the classes being offered within these areas are landscaping for the home; small engine repair; tractor tuneup; accounting - basic bookkeeping; data processing - introduction and keypunch; shorthand; typing; home buying and selling for the layman; investments; small business management; child care job training; home nursing-care for the sick; sewing - dress making; tailoring wool-like fabrics; reupholstery; auto mechanics-engines; auto body repair; blue print reading - machine trades; carpentry-house framing; electric wiring-residential; electronics-theory and circuits; machine shop skills-basic; masonry-block and brick; photography-beginning; welding-acetylene and arc; art-oil painting; and metric measurements-basic.

ACADEMIC CLASSES for high school credit include English 9-12; algebra; basic mathematics, history, geography, sociology and general science. In addition, physical fitness classes will be held in the campus gymnasium.

Each class is conducted one or two evenings a week on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday or Thursday evenings from 7 until 9:30 p.m.

Tuition costs for classes are minimal, averaging less than $1 per hour of instruction.

Dr. Hartle recommends that prospective adult students (persons 16 years of age or over) enroll early in order to enjoy maximum opportunity of getting courses of their choice. He

City planners slate special meet Monday

The Washington C.H. city Planning Commission will hold a special meeting at 7 p.m. Monday to consider a proposal for a zoning district change.

The meeting is being held at 7 p.m. since city officials and the Ohio Environmental Protection Agency will hold an open hearing at 8 p.m. concerning the improvements in the city's sewage treatment system, according to City Manager Dan Wolford.

The planning commission members will consider a proposal for a zoning district change submitted by Carroll Halliday, Inc., 907 Columbus Ave. The applicant has requested that land located on CCC Highway-E, immediately west of the K-Mart store be changed from B-1 and B-2 zoning to a new B-3 status to permit future planning and development.

further advised that, in the event of inclement weather conditions, classes will be cancelled for that particular evening, but will be made up when weather conditions improve.

The hours of registration during the period of Jan. 2 - Jan. 21 are from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Mondays through Thursdays and from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Fridays. Students may register in person at the adult education office in the administration building of the Laurel Oaks campus.

Students wishing to register by mail may do so by using the application blank on the back of the green adult education information bulletins which were mailed to residents in August and December, 1974.

Anyone wishing additional information about winter term adult education classes or desiring an information bulletin should call the Laurel Oaks adult education office at 513-382-1411 or 382-1214.

Earned certificates for completed courses will be awarded.

Snow, sleet rain plague Midwest

By The Associated Press

Snow, sleet and rain plagued a large part of the Midwest today as a wet and wide-ranging winter storm swirled into the eastern half of the country.

Unseasonably mild temperatures in the 30s kept snowfalls from becoming as heavy in most Northern sections as had been predicted.

Even so, up to 6 inches of snow blanketed a wide area from eastern Kansas and Oklahoma into Nebraska, Iowa and Missouri. Two to 3 inches fell in Wisconsin and southern Minnesota and up to 2 inches sifted into northern Illinois, Indiana and Michigan.

Heavy-snow warnings remained in effect for parts of Wisconsin and Upper Michigan.

The snow turned to freezing rain and sleet south of the snow belt, glazing portions of eastern Missouri, central Illinois, Indiana and Ohio.

Rain soaked much of the country farther south, ranging from Arkansas to the Gulf of Mexico and east into Alabama.

A new weather system rolling across the Pacific Northwest scattered showers and rain over Oregon and Washington. Strong and gusty winds swept Southern California.

Kennel club holds meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Paint Valley Kennel Club was held Thursday night at Anderson's Restaurant with president Robert Schneider, presiding.

A report was given on the recent, successful Christmas party at which member American Kennel Club judge John Neff, of Vandalia, told what the A.K.C. judges look for in the show ring.

Guests were former members, A.K.C. judges Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Bishop of Wilmington, and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Waters of Sabina. Watters was a former president of the Paint Valley Kennel Club.

Schneider announced the February obedience classes have been postponed due to lack of heat and would be rescheduled as weather permits.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 6 at Anderson's Restaurant.

Money stolen

A Washington C. H. man reported to city police Thursday that $140 had been taken from his home New Year's Eve.

Robert Seymour, 703 Park Dr., informed police the money was taken from a desk drawer sometime between 10:30 p.m. and midnight Dec. 31.

Award captured by WSHS pupil

A Washington Senior High School student captured the highest local award and fourth place district honors in the annual essay competition sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

The essay submitted by Tim O'Flynn, 704 E. Market St., was judged the best of the local entries and was fourth in the Columbus district. This year's theme was "My Responsibility as a Citizen."

The statewide contest is open to all senior high school students. Each was required to tape his essay and send it to district headquarters for judging.

Unfortunately, only the top three finishers in each district are invited to participate in the state finals.

Representing the VFW at the district awards dinner were Kenneth Harley, commander of the Burnett-Ducey Post, and Cloyce D. Copley, chairman of the local contest committee.

Rhodes returns from vacation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes returned from a Florida vacation Thursday but remained out of sight in his Columbus business office.

An aide, James Duerk, said Rhodes was busy screening applicants for eight cabinet posts that haven't been filled.

Rhodes takes over the governor's office Jan. 13. Democratic legislators, who will control the 111th General Assembly, take their seats Monday.

Another 'wet year' in weather records

Fayette County ended the third "wet year" in a row with the advent of 1975.

Statistics kept by Coyt A. Stookey, official Washington C.H. weather observer, at his recording station, located at 134 E. Ohio Ave., disclose that 43.76 inches of precipitation, in the form of rain or snow, fell on the city during 1974.

This was 5.32 inches in excess of the 38.44-inch average for the year. The 1973 total was 49.80 inches; for 1972, 41.79 inches; for 1971, 36.66 inches, and for 1970, 38.89 inches.

DECEMBER precipitation measured 2.75 inches. The 2.75 - inch total was .27 of an inch over the December average of 2.48 inches. The December precipitation a year ago was 3.33 inches.

Precipitation was recorded on 19 of December's 31 days, ranging from a mere trace on three of the days to .99 of an inch on the first day of the month. Minimum daily temperatures ranged from 10 degrees on Dec. 5 to 42 degrees on Christmas eve. Maximum daily temperatures ranged from a low of 31 degrees on Dec. 18 to a high of 56 degrees on Dec. 23.

Here are the actual Washington C.H. precipitation figures for 1974 as compared with the established averages:

| | Act. | Avg. |
|-----------|-------|-------|
| January | 2.94 | 3.38 |
| February | 1.99 | 2.44 |

JEFFERSONVILLE — The Jeffersonville village council met Thursday and appointed a new council member to fill the vacancy recently created by the resignation of Larry Cook.

Marvin Brown was appointed by Jeffersonville Mayor Don Morrow, and his selection was approved by the council.

Village legal counselor, Dennis P. Ulrich, submitted his resignation for personal reasons, and the council has engaged Gary D. Smith, Washington C.H. city solicitor, as its legal representative. He was given a two-year contract.

A vacancy in the position of village treasurer remains unfilled.

In other business, the council resolved to cooperate in the Fayette County disaster services program, renewed the village contract with the Fayette County Sheriff's Department for law enforcement, and paid routine bills.

Railroad billed for coal spillage

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Department of Transportation has sent the PennCentral Railroad a bill for $6,856 for cleaning up spilled coal that spilled onto Interstate 75 here after a train wreck Nov. 25.

The transportation department used its trucks to haul away several tons of coal that dropped on the highway's southbound lanes as railroad workmen attempted to free derailed coal cars on an overpass.

The derailment caused police to close the freeway more than 24 hours fearing wreckage might tumble onto traffic below.

Opinion And Comment

Watergate-dominated year

There is no surprise element whatever in Associated Press editors' designation of the Watergate scandal as the top news story of 1974. This complex of events was in a class by itself.

The interesting thing to note is the extent to which other leading news stories of the year flowed from the Watergate coverup. Any one of them might have been the most newsworthy event in an ordinary year.

There was, for example, the resignation of a president; Richard Nixon became the first chief executive to abdicate his office. There was Gerald Ford's ascent to the presidency less than a year after fate had plucked him from Congress to become vice president.

There was, too, President Ford's pardon of his predecessor. Then came the Democratic sweep in the November elections, in large measure a public reaction to wrongdoing by men high in the Republican party. Finally, we have the intensive congressional probe of Nelson Rockefeller's background and his final swearing-in as vice president.

The list of top stories contains others of great import — the energy crisis, the worsening economy, the precarious Middle East situation. But it was Watergate, and the still-widening circle of Watergate shock waves, which dominated the news throughout this year now fading into history.

THESE DAYS . . . By John Chamberlain

1975: The year of years

If there is any particular resolution that a columnist should make for the New Year of 1975, it is a resolution not to retire. This is bound to be the year of years, both in domestic politics and foreign policy.

Domestically, it could lead to the break-up of the Republican Party and to the sundering of the Democrats into Northern and Southern wings, on the pattern of 1860. These are not, of course, foregone conclusions. Everything will depend on the course of the economy. If Jerry Ford, with Nelson Rockefeller pulling some "critical choice" rabbits out of his hat, can keep production from going to pot and bring some order out of the interrelated oil and balance-of-payments messes, the Republicans will stagger through as Republicans. This presupposes that the Congressional Democrats won't lock us into continuing inflation by piling debt on debt. Since a preponderance of the newly elected Democrats are big spenders with no grasp of the fact that 1975 is not 1933, the presupposition that they might suddenly embrace common sense is a dubious one.

If Ford and Rockefeller can't ride the waves, the Democrats conceivably might. But their only chance of succeeding is to find a candidate who is acceptable to both big Northern and Pacific Coast state governors and bosses and to George Wallace of Alabama. No standard liberal need apply. Wallace could abide a Senator Henry Jackson, who combines some Populist economic opinions preferred in the rural areas with a clear perception that no great nation can afford to be militarily second-rate. But would the Ted Kennedys and the George McGovern in the party go for Jackson? Would a Jimmy Carter of Georgia, now an ex-governor, be an acceptable compromise between the Kennedy-McGovern and Wallace wings? Not unless George Wallace is prepared to make the great sacrifice of relinquishing his claims to his sectional leadership.

A combination of economic distress and Democratic disarray would present a beautiful opportunity for Ronald Reagan to come forward as a Third Party aspirant to the Presidency. Reagan plans to expound doctrine in the hopes that he will provide a standard to which good men can repair if the country is in a shambles. In addition to his electronic pulpit, he will have an academic pulpit from which to preach his commonsensical sermons. Pepperdine University in California has just established a chair to be known as Distinguished Visiting Professor of Political Economy, and Reagan will be the first to occupy it, beginning his teaching this January. Since Columbia University was a launching pad for Eisenhower, there is no reason why Pepperdine couldn't play a similar role for Reagan. But one thinks of Emerson's words about Thoreau: "Pounding beans is all very well to the end of pounding empires, but what if in the end it is only pounding beans?"

In foreign policy everything in 1975 will hinge on Henry Kissinger's ability to keep the Arabs on the one hand, and the Russians on the other, from misperceiving the nature of the West's moral commitment to the integrity of Israel as a nation. If the West were to acquiesce in the destruction of Israel, it would complete the work of Adolf Hitler. This won't happen, but the Arabs might think it could happen.

In this connection, John Stoessinger's "Why Nations Go to War" (St. Martin's Press) should be required reading for statesmen. Stoessinger proves that the big conflicts of the 20th century, from World War I to the four Arab-Israeli wars, all came about because their instigators misjudged the strength and temper of the selected victims. And not a single war in the 20th century has been won by the party that set it in motion. Moreover no war in our century has resulted in a permanent victory.

The moral: don't start anything. And if you win something that another party has started, don't try to impose a victor's peace on him.

Columbus teachers strike seen

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A strike by Columbus' 5,000 public school teachers appeared imminent today after contract negotiations broke down and a federal mediator said wage talks were "hopelessly deadlocked."

The Columbus Education Association scheduled a meeting Sunday afternoon to either accept the Board of Education's offer of a 4 per cent salary increase or vote to strike Monday when the Christmas vacation ends.

CEA President Ted Thomas predicted teachers will reject the offer because the cost of living is now running more than 12 per cent.

"There's no way Columbus teachers can stretch 4 per cent into 12 per cent," Thomas said.

The CEA is seeking a 14.8 per cent hike.

Mediator Joseph Santa—Emma broke off the talks Thursday because "neither side was ready to make major concessions."

The school board said its offer was "firm and final." Jack Burgess, CEA executive director, said a strike vote will be taken Sunday "unless the board makes a substantial increase in its proposal."

The board contends it cannot offer a larger increase because of the uncertainty of what the level of state funding will be this year. CEA officials say the increases could be provided from current resources.

Ohio Perspective

Brown and Celeste having rough time

By TOM DIEMER
Associated Press Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lame duck Lt. Gov. John W. Brown and his successor, state Rep. Richard Celeste, D-5 Cleveland, have not been enjoying a particularly smooth transition.

A Celeste spokesman said recently that the two have not had any formal organizational meetings to ease the transition.

They have a mutual problem. Celeste, who insisted during his campaign that he would be more active than Brown, now finds himself with the same problem that Brown had — a governor from the opposite party.

Brown, a Republican under Democratic Gov. John J. Gilligan, was virtually ignored. Celeste isn't sure what to expect from Gov.-elect James A. Rhodes.

Brown took defeat after 16 years in office hard. It didn't help that the lieutenant governor's salary is being increased from $17,000 to $30,000. The law was passed before Celeste was elected.

When Celeste announced he intended to expand his staff to eight and the state Controlling Board subsequently released $26,270 to the new lieutenant governor's office, mostly for salaries, Brown couldn't resist jabbing.

In a statement to the Controlling

Board, Brown said, "For clarification, this office never had on its payroll more than five full-time employees, including the lieutenant governor, and the request for additional operating funds in the amount of $26,000 made by Lieutenant Govern-elect Celeste was not initiated by this office, nor was it discussed with the current officeholder and was not approved by this office..."

"It would be my suggestion that the Controlling Board rescind the $26,000 request by Celeste until he has been sworn into office and may legally initiate activities for the office," Brown continued.

Simultaneously, in a separate statement, Brown rescinded a request he had made on the same day as did Celeste, for $5,000 to pay off office bills.

"In view of recent disclosures, I now request that the Controlling Board rescind my request for an Emergency Fund transfer of $5,000," he said.

"Apparently we have sufficient funds to meet the obligations of the present operation of the Office of Lieutenant Governor."

Brown's request had passed the board on Dec. 19 unanimously and without discussion. The money for Celeste was approved, 4-3, along strict party lines.

Dear Abby:

ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Should she tell neighbors about their son?

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor couple went on a vacation and left their 19-year-old son home alone.

There was a party going on at their house every night. I could see (and hear) the cars coming and going at all hours.

One night was noisier than all the others. There was yelling and screaming in the house, loud music, and someone was vomiting in the back yard. It lasted until 4 A.M. The whole neighborhood was disturbed.

The boy disposed of four large garbage cans of beer cans and bottles before the parents came home.

My question: Should the parents be told what went on while they were away?

CINCINNATI NEIGHBOR

DEAR NEIGHBOR: Yes. If the boy were YOUR son, wouldn't you want to be told?

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 15-year-old girl who has a thing for firemen. I live around the corner from the fire station, which makes it nice. I've got a crush on a fireman right now. He's married, but he's a real neat guy. I dream about him all the time. Is this wrong?

ALL FIRED UP

DEAR FIRED: You're not responsible for your dreams, but when you're awake, concentrate on "neat guys" your own age. And quit hanging around the fire station. That's playing with fire!

DEAR ABBY: I'm a 46-year-old married man who works in a large office. We're all pretty friendly.

Last Sunday, my wife was out of town, so I went to a neighborhood restaurant alone. A young woman who works at the office came in (alone) and sat at the bar. Since I was at the bar I offered to buy her a drink. She seemed eager to accept. She had two, then I asked her to join me for dinner. She did. We had a nice time chatting about the people at the office.

After dinner she said: "Your place or mine?" I laughed, and said it sounded like she was propositioning me. She said she was. I nearly fainted. Then I said I didn't think it would be a very good idea because I was a married man, and besides we had to work together.

The next day I heard that she told some of the girls at the office that I had spent the night with her and that I was a "lousy lover." It's pretty embarrassing, Abby. I'm wondering if maybe the best way to handle it is to quit my job and clear out.

BAD-MOUTHED

DEAR BAD: Quit your job? Never! Just tell a few of your men friends at the office that nothing happened. They'll believe you, and you can bet they'll circulate your side of it.

DEAR ABBY: I was in the war in Vietnam and was wounded when I stepped on a mine. I was hospitalized for a long time. I finally pulled through, but my sex life was ruined.

Recently I have met a beautiful and intelligent girl and we have been dating regularly. We are becoming more and more intimate and I am getting to the point where I feel I have to tell her about my problem, but I don't know how to do it. Can you help me?

DEEPLY TROUBLED

DEAR TROUBLED: The only way to tell her is directly and in simple language—just as you have told me. Don't put it off. The longer you wait, the more difficult it will be.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Today In History

By The Associated Press
Today is Friday, Jan. 3, the third day of 1975. There are 362 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1777 General George Washington's ragged and hungry army routed British regulars in the battle of Princeton, New Jersey.

On this date—In 1661, English diarist Samuel Pepys wrote that he had this day seen for the first time women on the theater stage.

In 1791, President George Washington reported to Congress that an Act by the New Jersey legislature transferred ground at Sandy Hook to the U.S. government.

In 1870, construction was started on New York's Brooklyn Bridge.

In 1888, paraffined drinking straws were patented.

In 1919, Herbert Hoover was selected as director-general for the relief of World War I liberated nations in Europe.

In 1958, a new nation was created with the induction at Trinidad of Lord Hailes as first governor-general of the West Indies Federation.

Ten years ago: Fifty-five persons died and 63 were injured when the roof of the newly built Roman Catholic Church collapsed in Rijo, Mexico.

Five years ago: A Brazilian plane hijacked by Brazilian revolutionaries arrived in Cuba after stops in Peru and Panama.

One year ago: Raids on Irish Republican Army hideouts by Irish Republic troops and police resulted in the arrest of 20 suspected members of the outlawed IRA.

Today's birthdays: Hockey star Bobby Hull is 36.

Jesus' First Disciples

And the two disciples heard him speak, and they followed Jesus.
—John I: 37

During all the time that John was preaching the coming of the Lord and baptizing sinners in the waters of the Jordan, Pharisees constantly plagued him with questions: Art thou the Christ? Art thou Elias? Art thou the prophet? He denied all, proclaiming that the one who would come after him (Jesus) was the Christ, "whose shoe's latchet I am not worthy to unloose." Then one day, with two of his disciples, he saw Jesus approaching and cried out: "Behold the Lamb of God." Thereupon the two disciples left him to follow Jesus. Jesus turned to them and asked what they sought. They asked where he dwelt, and Jesus took them to his abode, where they remained. One was Andrew, the brother of Simon Peter who, joining them later, became leader of Christ's apostles.

Catholics, Jews seek to establish accord

NEW YORK (AP) — On a worldwide basis, the Roman Catholic Church is launching an effort to rid itself of insinuations against Jews and establish deepened, working bonds with Judaism.

Although that faith gave birth to Christianity, mutual misimpressions have marred their attitudes toward each other for 2,000 years, the Vatican says, adding that conditions now are open for building a "new relationship."

"The spiritual bonds and historical links binding the Church to Judaism ... render obligatory a better mutual understanding and renewed mutual esteem," the Vatican said Thursday in guidelines spelling out steps for seeking that goal.

A Jewish leader hailed the document generally, saying its implementation "would constitute nothing less than a revolution in esteem between Catholics and Jews everywhere." But he sharply deplored certain aspects of it.

Rabbi Marc H. Tannenber, cosecretary of the International Jewish Committee for Interreligious Consultations, said the guidelines assert a "conversionary intention" toward Jews, implying that Judaism is inadequate for them, and that God's covenant with them has ended.

This is "totally unacceptable to the Jewish conscience," he says, adding that Judaism centers "on the critical conviction that God's covenant with Israel is everlasting" and not subject to substitution.

He says the matter will be taken up with the Vatican's new commission on Catholic-Jewish relations at a meeting in Rome Jan. 7-9.

His and Her Checking Accounts for your greater convenience

That way, one of you saves the trouble of reporting checks written to the other, who does the record-keeping on the joint checking account. (Or perhaps you save the "grief" of forgetting to report some of the checks written.)

Obviously, it should be simpler and easier for each to keep an up-to-date record of transactions in his or her own checking account.

Then you fill in the check book record right at the time you write the check.

No more bother of writing yourself notes, or trying to remember to report the date, amount and name of payee to the other party to the joint account.

In both cases, and others too numerous to describe, your record of your checking account balance is wrong, and you have the problem of straightening it out later.

Also, you have an incorrect idea of the amount you have in the bank.

A checking account for Him and one for Her may make life easier for both of you.

New Year's Eve party held by Jud-I-Ques Club

The Jud-I-Ques Western Square Dance Club held its New Year's Eve party in the garage at the home of Mrs. Willard Judy. Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lambert, both called for the square dancing.

Finger foods and punch were served throughout the evening. At 11 o'clock they were joined by "Kenny Yahn's Country Knights," consisting of Kenny Yahn, Dave Yahn, Mrs. Wanda Ankrom and Frank Deskins, a member of the club. They played many requests for sing-a-longs and dancing. Mrs. Ankrom favored the group by singing among several others, "Two Pair of Shoes" written by Frank and recorded by the group. Some of the members had their first experience square dancing western style with live music.

As midnight approached, the group played "Auld Lang Syne" and horns and hats were distributed and a shower of balloons were quickly burst to bring in the New Year with a lively bang.

The committee planning the pleasurable affair were Mr. and Mrs. John Frazier, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cotner, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Deskins, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis and Mrs. Judy.

Other members present were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Coil, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Blessing and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Ruth.

Additional guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Warner, Mrs. Tom Ankrom and Mrs. Dave Yahn of Washington C.H.; Mr. and Mrs. Dick Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Shanton, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Romey and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rolfe Jr., all from the Belles and Beaus Square Dance Club of Chillicothe.

Facing up to winter

BY JOAN O'SULLIVAN

BABY, it's cold outside and for dry skin that means trouble. Icy winds cause parched skin to crackle like parchment, a condition compounded by the drying effects of steam heat.

What can you do to smooth away winter's dry skin problems? An expert, Dr. Joel Hertz, supervising cosmetic chemist for Dorothy Gray, offers these tips:

Sun and Snow: Remember that snow, like sand, reflects the sun's rays. If you are a skier or a tobogganist, use a sun screen preparation just as you would at the beach in summer. And don't let a cloudy day fool you! Clouds, fog and haze are only water vapor and do not deflect ultra-violet rays.

Rx for Dry Skin: If skin is dry, you should use moisturizer all year round. In winter, slather it on morning and night, every time you have an opportunity. Apply over face and throat, rubbing the excess into your hands. A moisturizer containing Vitamin A is especially helpful in combatting scaling, roughness and chapping.

Smoothing Bath: Use bath oil in the tub to help lubricate skin and seal in moisture. After bathing, apply a soothing moisture lotion, giving special attention to throat, shoulders, elbows, knees and heels.

Indoor Cue: Ward off some of the drying effects of steam heat indoors by getting a humidifier or simply placing pans filled with water around or near the radiator.

Bundle Up: When you head outdoors, wear a hat, gloves and muffler with your winter coat. The less exposure, the less wind-chapping can occur. Could be the ancient mariner looked ancient because his face was weatherbeaten. Don't let it happen to you!

B'day observed

Little Miss Nichole Bower celebrated her second birthday New Year's Eve in the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Saltz. Her young guests were Jamie and Colleen Pauley of Jeffersonville, Dwight and Debbie Lewis of Columbus, Chris and Robbie Saltz of Warner Robbins, Ga., and Clark Saltz II of New York City, N.Y. Also attending were Mrs. Bill Pauley of Jeffersonville, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hunsinger, Attorney and Mrs. Clyde Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lewis, all of Columbus.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Gary Saltz of Georgia, and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Saltz of New York, and Del Saltz of Washington C.H. Those sending gifts, but unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bower and father Chris Bower, of Tucson, Ariz., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bower and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Saltz of Ray, the great-grandparents.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. Donald T. Oesterle, daughter Tracie, and son Teddy, 722 McLean St., entertained recently with a turkey dinner. Their guests were their son, Charles, who was home for the holidays from Sheppard AFB, Texas, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Albright and daughter Gretchen of Galion, Miss Robin Henkle and Mr. and Mrs. Millard Weidinger.

Cooking with cabbage

APPLES lend special flavor to red cabbage, a delicious and colorful vegetable to serve on a cold winter evening.

BY JOAN O'SULLIVAN

"CABOCHE," the French word meaning head, becomes "cabbage" in English, a very versatile vegetable that's delicious cooked or raw. This is an ancient vegetable, known 4,000 years ago in Europe and Africa. It came to our continent with explorer Jacques Cartier, who planted it in Canada.

A good buy, cabbage, can lend its leafy goodness to a meal as a vegetable or as a main dish. It's easy to cook — but shouldn't be overcooked. Serve it al dente — somewhat crisp. You can cook cabbage plain by cutting it in wedges and simmering, covered, in one inch of salted water for 12 to 15 minutes or until tender but still crisp. Or you can serve cabbage in the festive ways suggested here:

Made with shredded cabbage and chopped apples. Spiced Red Cabbage is a delicious hot vegetable to serve for dinner on cold winter evenings. Extra poached apple slices are added for a appetite appeal.

SPICED RED CABBAGE

1/4 cup margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 cooked apples, pared, cored and chopped

1 medium head red cabbage, finely shredded
1-3rd cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup water
2 bay leaves
1/8 teaspoon ground cloves
1/8 teaspoon pepper
1/4 cup cider vinegar
2 teaspoons cornstarch
2 teaspoons water

Melt margarine in 4- to 6-quart kettle over medium heat. Add onion and apples; saute until onion is golden and transparent. Stir in cabbage, corn syrup, water, bay leaves, cloves and pepper. Bring to boil. Reduce heat; cover and simmer, stirring occasionally, 30 minutes or until cabbage is tender.

Stir in vinegar. Mix cornstarch and water; stir into red cabbage. Bring to boil and boil 1 minute. Remove from heat.

Makes 6 1/2 cups.
Stuffed cabbage is popular in middle European cuisine. Usually, however, single cabbage leaves are wrapped around chopped beef. In this recipe, the entire cabbage is stuffed. It simmers until tender in beef bouillon, then it's served with a medium thick white sauce:

STUFFED CABBAGE

1 small whole green cabbage
1 pound lean ground beef
1/4 cup chopped onion
3 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
Salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
Pinch of garlic powder
2 bouillon cubes
2 cups boiling water
2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
1 cup hot milk
White pepper
Ground nutmeg
Trim coarse outside leaves from cabbage. Cut out the middle of the cabbage, reserving the cut out pieces for coleslaw.

Brown ground beef in 1 tablespoon of butter. Add 1 teaspoon salt, pepper and garlic powder. Spoon into cavity of the cabbage. Wrap cabbage in cheese cloth and tie.

In large saucepan, dissolve bouillon cubes in water. Bring to boil. Cook cabbage, covered, in bouillon at slow boil for about 20 minutes or until tender.

Meanwhile, in saucepan, heat 2 tablespoons butter over moderate heat until melted but not brown. Add flour, stirring until well-blended. Gradually stir in hot milk. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil. Simmer, still stirring, over very low heat for 5 minutes. Season with salt and pepper to taste and a pinch of nutmeg. Serve sauce over cabbage.

Makes 6 portions.

Cole Slaw is a buffet table favorite. It's great with sliced meat and goes well with many casseroles. Sons and daughters often boast about their Mother's recipes, one good reason why this recipe is called:

MOTHER'S COLE SLAW

1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 cup vinegar
2 tablespoons margarine
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon pepper
6 cups shredded cabbage
2 tablespoons dairy sour cream
Paprika

In saucepan, stir together corn syrup, vinegar, margarine, sugar, salt and pepper. Bring to boil over medium heat, stirring constantly.

Pour hot sauce over shredded cabbage; mix well. Chill at least 1 hour. Toss with sour cream just before serving. Sprinkle with paprika.

Makes 6 servings.

Bridge winners are announced

Winners of the weekly bridge-luncheon at the Washington Country Club Thursday were Mrs. H.L. Osborne, Mrs. Harold Zimmerman and Miss Kathleen Davis.

There were 18 members and one guest, Mrs. Robert Jefferson, present. The committee was composed of Mrs. Sam Parrett, chairman, Mrs. James Chakeres and Mrs. Albert Bryant.

TV Viewing

By LINDA DEUTSCH
Associated Press Writer

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — The big game was in its last minutes, the teams neck and neck. TV viewers held their breath. Suddenly, unbelievably, the game blacked out and a small girl named Heidi came skipping across TV screens.

And Anna Hillar's switchboard went wild.

That moment four years ago when a major football game was cut short by the regularly scheduled movie, "Heidi," still haunts Mrs. Hillar, who is chief telephone operator at NBC-TV studios here.

Her other remembered nightmares include the day President Ford made a speech which pre-empted the World Series game for 45 minutes.

"During those 45 minutes we took 588 calls," she declares. "And the things they said about the President!"

But Mrs. Hillar, who has been fielding calls from irate viewers for 23 years, knew how to handle the emergency.

"We took their comments and told them to stay tuned, and this would be over in a few minutes."

Not all calls to a TV studio are nasty. Some viewers offer support for favorite shows. "I think they're afraid that if they don't show interest their favorite show will be canceled," says Mrs. Hillar, who heads a staff of 17 operators.

As the only network with a 24-hour switchboard, NBC answers the most viewer calls, and the secret, says Mrs. Hillar, is not answering.

"We mostly don't tell them anything. We take their comment and say it will be passed on."

The phoned comments are passed on indeed. Operators — particularly those assigned to prime-time hours — take down viewer comments word for word. Once a week Mrs. Hillar compiles the comments into a report which is sent to 30 network executives "from the president on down."

The most vehement protests usually come from sports fans or animal lovers. The nicest calls are from children. And the star show draws the most irate calls is definitely Jane Fonda. "When I know Jane Fonda is going to be on one of our shows, I always think, 'Oh boy, here we go!'"

There is a bright side to the job, she notes. "I think it's very interesting. Each call is different. Many of these people have legitimate reasons to be upset." And when the calls are weird, "You look at these things and laugh."

DARBYSHIRE FARMS

38 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — This is a desirable small farm with a modern one-floor plan frame home, barn, 2-car garage, implement building, cribs and poultry houses. Practically all tillable, good fences, city water, within 4 miles of Wilmington.

33 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Improved with a 2-story frame home, 70x40 barn, poultry house and 2 other small buildings. Drilled well, fronting on a blacktop road just a few miles southeast of Wilmington.

65 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — This desirable farm is located just a short distance from Wilmington with approximately 60 acres of highly productive, tillable land in a high state of fertility, improved with a 4 room house, barn and corn crib.

74 ACRE WARREN COUNTY FARM — This is a very desirable farm fronting on a blacktop road, improved with a substantial 2-story frame home with bath, a large barn suitable for cattle, with water under pressure to the barn and feed lots. All tillable except approximately 5 acres in woods. Ideal for a summer cottage, within easy driving distance of Cincinnati and one mile off I-71.

89 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Fronting on a state route with 32 lots already approved by the zoning board and county commissioners. All tillable with ideal building sites.

165 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Improved with a modern one-floor plan home, 40x36 barn with attached crib and machinery storage. Land is level with more than 100 acres tillable and the balance in pasture and open woods. Farm has been limed and fertilized in accordance with government programs. Located between Wilmington and Xenia and close to I-71 and U.S. 68 interchange.

196 ACRE WARREN COUNTY FARM — Located between Mason, Lebanon and Kings Island in one of the fastest growing areas in Southwestern Ohio, improved with an 8-room frame house with bath, 2 barns and crib. This farm is underlaid with gravel and is ideal for development and speculation.

475 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Improved with 3 houses, barns, cribs, granaries, etc., mostly tillable and in high state of production. Now being farmed by one of the best tenants in Clinton County until March 1, 1976. This farm is a money maker.

622 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Fronting on 2 blacktop highways located just a short distance from Wilmington, improved with 4 frame houses, barns and other outbuildings. This is an excellent investment and a good hedge against inflation.

628 ACRE FAYETTE COUNTY FARM — Fronting on a blacktop road, improved with an attractive 2-story older brick home ideal for modernization, brick barn and other outbuildings. This land is in a high state of fertility and production and must be seen to be appreciated. Price $595,000.

767 ACRE CLINTON COUNTY FARM — Farms of this size are seldom available. Approximately 750 acres tillable in a high state of cultivation. Present growing crops will verify. Must be seen to be appreciated. Improvements consist of a new brick ranch-type home with large connected living room and family room with double fireplace, modern kitchen with large dining area, abundance of wall and base cabinets, three bedrooms with two full baths, and a fourth bedroom now used as an office and den, full basement with fireplace, FA furnace, central air conditioning, two modern tenant houses with furnaces and baths. Outbuildings include 50x75 barn with 60x75 attached feeding shed. Other barns 50x60 with 15-ft. attached shed and concrete floor, 40x50 barn, 18x15 storage building, 2 LHD 12,000 bu. (24-in. bus.) metal storage bins, 350 ton concrete silo, other utility buildings. Over a mile of road frontage on blacktop road. Financing available.

Bidding Quiz

What would you bid as dealer with each of the following six hands?

1. ♠10 ♥AQ94 ♦A963 ♣AJ87
2. ♠AKQ4 ♥KJ763 ♦AQ8 ♣5
3. ♠AQ96 ♥AQ95 ♦KQ82 ♣7
4. ♠K93 ♥A8 ♦AJ5 ♣KJ982
5. ♠A10 ♥KQ985 ♦KJ2 ♣AJ9
6. ♠AKJ9 ♥— ♦J8743 ♣AKJ9

1. One heart. This follows the general rule of opening in the suit beneath the singleton with 4-4-4-1 hands. If partner responds a spade or a notrump, you plan to bid two clubs.

To open the bidding in a minor suit would lead to an awkward position if partner responded with either a spade or a notrump. There would be no convenient rebid available.

2. One heart. Here you bid the longer, not the stronger, suit first. You plan to bid spades next, thus identifying your 5-4 distribution and, by virtue of the "reverse," your high-card strength.

3. One spade. With a singleton club in a 4-4-4-1 hand, you treat spades as the suit beneath the singleton and open the bidding in that suit. You plan to bid hearts next.

4. One notrump. This shows 16 to 18 points, notrump distribution and (usually) strength in all suits. Whenever possible, you should open the bidding with a notrump, as this tells partner in one concise statement the size of your hand. To open the bidding with a club would lead to a difficult rebid problem if partner made any response at the one-level.

It is far more illuminating to tell your story in full at your first opportunity to speak. A one notrump opening bid makes it relatively easy for partner to decide whether the limit of the hand is a game, a slam or a part score.

5. One heart. Counting the value of the five-card heart suit and the highly promising intermediate cards, this hand is worth at least 19 points—and is therefore too strong for an opening notrump bid.

6. One diamond. There is no good reason to vary from the general rule of bidding the longest suit first—even though the diamonds contain only one high-card point and the spades and clubs each contain eight high-card points. The best trump suit is usually the one where the partnership has the greatest combined length, and opening the bidding with a diamond is by far the best step to take in this direction.

Speaking of Your Health...

Artery Operation After Strokes

My uncle had two small strokes and it has been suggested that the cause is a blockage of an artery in his neck.

Now an operation is suggested. He and the family are petrified because we don't know what this means.

Mrs. T. N. A., N. C.

Dear Mrs. A.:

It is hardly conceivable that such a sophisticated procedure would not have been thoroughly explained to the patient and the family.

I have seen it happen repeatedly that when a doctor's explanation is relayed to various members of the family it becomes totally confused.

An explanation made to people under tension can be quickly distorted, or even forgotten. The patient then becomes too embarrassed to have the story repeated and is left in a state of confusion.

It is true that there is a large blood vessel, the carotid artery, which leads from the largest blood vessel in the body, the aorta, and goes to the brain. Large quantities of blood filled with life-giving oxygen bring nourishment to the tiniest folds in the brain.

This carotid artery can be narrowed by arteriosclerosis, by anatomical variations, aneurysms, and by infection. These and other changes in the carotid artery reduce the blood flow to the brain and thus set the stage for small or large strokes.

Dr. Michael DeBakey, of Houston, Texas, is certainly one of the geniuses in the field of carotid artery surgery. Many of his students, distributed all over the world, are carrying on his teachings and performing brilliant types of surgery to reopen the carotid, or even to replace this artery with a synthetic sleeve.

It is also possible to actually ream out the blocked portion of the carotid artery in order to reestablish a normal flow of blood to the brain.

Before any of these procedures are contemplated, intricate studies are performed, including arteriograms, electroencephalograms, brain scans, and complete blood studies. These, in addition to neurological examinations, help the surgeon in determining when such operations will be beneficial.

When once you have a complete understanding of the problem and the operation that is contemplated your anxiety will be alleviated and your family can look forward to a successful result.

DR. COLEMAN welcomes letters from readers, and, while he cannot undertake to answer each one, he will use questions in his column whenever possible and when they are of general interest. Address your letters to Dr. Coleman in care of this newspaper.

Five minor auto accidents checked

Five minor accidents were reported to Wahsington C.H. police officers Thursday. Two of them were reportedly hitskip incidents while the vehicles were parked.

George R. Hall, 223 E. Circle Ave., notified police that his car was damaged while parked on the 100 block of W. Market Street about noon Thursday. Ruth E. Smith, 371 Ely St., said her car was dented while parked at Hidy Foods sometime around 5:30 p.m.

Suellen Higgins, 22, of 799 McLean St., was cited Thursday morning for failure to yield after stopping at a stop sign on McLean Street. She pulled from the stop sign into the path of a truck which was westbound on Washington Avenue, and moderate damage resulted in the ensuing collision. The truck was driven by Michael D. Kuhn, 29, of Milford Center.

Thurman W. Plummer, Ohio 41-N, backed from a parking space behind the Huntington Bank and dented a van owned by Richard Patton, Rt. 5, Washington C.H.

Norman R. Moore, 49, of 514 Gregg St., backed from the driveway of the K&K Carry-out and struck a parked auto owned by Donald E. Cooper, 1129 Willard St., causing minor damage.

Angry policemen eye Cincy strike

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP)—Angry Fraternal Order of Police officials called a strategy meeting tonight after Cincinnati City Council refused binding arbitration in a wage dispute.

Firemen, meanwhile, vote tonight on a 9.8 per cent wage hike proposal. However, if police get a larger raise, it will automatically go to firemen as well under the city charter. The city has 950 firemen and 1,100 policemen.

Council voted in favor of a three-person review committee which could make recommendations instead of binding arbitration in the police dispute.

Police later rejected this.

FOP President Elmer Dunaway stormed out of council chambers calling Mayor Theodore M. Berry "a dictator." Berry refused to allow Dunaway to address council a second time during Thursday's meeting.

City Manager E. Robert Turner said the city and police were about $1 million apart in the negotiations.

The city offered 9.8 per cent. Police demanded 12.2 per cent plus a cost of living wage clause. The FOP appealed in council after reaching an impasse with the city.

The city's 4,000 non-uniformed workers accepted a 9.8 per cent hike last week.

Capt. John Marshall, president of the Cincinnati Fire Fighters Association said firemen would vote on a 9.8 per cent increase which includes two other raises later. Firemen's hours will be reduced from 56 to 48 hours per week next year.

"I am tired of giving," in negotiations, Dunaway told city council. "We are not secondclass citizens. We are not trying to rape the city. We are professionals and we make less than waste collectors in San Francisco. We made less than bricklayers and painters right here in Cincinnati."

Base salary for police and firemen is $12,306 under the contract that ran out at midnight Wednesday.

"Maybe we can get members of the council to enforce the traffic laws of the city," said Dunaway after calling Berry a dictator.

"I will not conjecture," said Mayor Berry, asked what he thought would be the next move by the FOP.

"Anything I would say along those lines, with the attitude of Mr. Dunaway, would be considered as being dictatorial."

Bonus workers losing positions

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—With its work nearly completed, the Ohio Vietnam Veterans Bonus Commission dismissed 33 more workers Thursday.

Director John W. Bush said the commission staff, which totaled 182 last fall, will be down to less than 100 by the end of this month.

"This was always designed as a short-term program, and this was explained to our people when they were hired," Bush said.

Bush said the commission, at its height, was processing 50,000 to 60,000 applications a month. He said new applications have dwindled to about 2,000 a week.

Brown raps voter plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state's chief election officer said Thursday door-to-door registration "would cause fraud in our election system."

Secretary of State Ted W. Brown urged Ohio legislators to withhold a vote on the proposed change in registration laws until after careful consideration and consultation with election officials.

Door-to-door registration "is not a satisfactory way to increase voter registration rolls," he said.

Brown said the legislation would not make registration evenly accessible to all Ohioans, but would increase registration in populated areas without providing similar increases in suburban and rural areas.

Brown also said partisan registrars could seek to register only members of their political group.

Subpoenas sent to policemen

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP)—Federal agents reportedly issued federal grand jury subpoenas Thursday to a number of persons including police officers.

U.S. Attorney Eugene Siler confirmed the subpoenas were issued, but declined to reveal names of the recipients.
